Four Lex Mundi Member Firms Collaborate to Assist a Fast Moving Consumer Goods Corporation in Europe

A large multinational corporation operating in the fast-moving consumer goods sector contacted Wardyński & Partners, Lex Mundi member firm for Poland, for assistance in drafting an anti-corruption policy for its entire corporate group spanning ten jurisdictions in Central and Eastern Europe and producing e-trainings for employees.

Acting as the lead firm, Wardyński & Partners, engaged fellow Lex Mundi member firms in the region to assist. Wardyński & Partners drafted the Polish version of the policy which served as a model for other jurisdictions and coordinated adaption in other jurisdictions as well as producing e-trainings.

The following member firms adjusted the policy and its appendixes to national law and regulations by providing their expertise regarding the way of formal implementation of the policy in the company, as well as produced e-trainings for local employees:

- Čechová & Partners – Slovakia
- Cobalt – Estonia
- Nestor Nestor Diculescu Kingston Petersen SCA – Romania

Wardyński & Partners led the process across jurisdictions and seamlessly coordinated all communication between the client, its local subsidiaries and all Lex Mundi member firms.

Wardyński & Partners worked closely together with Lex Mundi firms by making financial arrangements and was also in charge of reporting to the client and ensuring coherence and timeliness of the work. Each member firm addressed the process and advised on local issues relating to the policy.

Successful Client Solutions

Wardyński & Partners was able to provide the client with a new anti-corruption policy that complies with the national law in each home country and is as coherent across the entire group as possible.

Serving as the main point of contact, Wardyński & Partners was able to provide the client with one integrated process and coordinated billing through one point of contact.
